

Using Macs for online courses

Students,

Please be aware that using a Mac computer to access your online classes through ANGEL is not supported. However, you can access your classes using a Mac computer provided you are using Mozilla Firefox as your browser. Firefox can be obtained from the following website: <http://getfirefox.com>. Also, please be aware that the Mac version of Microsoft Office is not the same as the Windows version and there are some differences. Microsoft Office for Mac cannot be used for COMP 1000.

If you do choose to use a Mac for your classes, please note that neither your instructor nor online tech support will be able to give you any specific assistance with using a Mac for online classes. We recommend that you use a Windows based system to access your online classes. Macs running the most current version of OSX (10.7 Lion) can install Windows using Boot Camp. Directions can be found here: <http://www.apple.com/support/bootcamp/>. However, please remember that Online Learning does not support this and cannot offer any assistance in installing Windows on a Mac.
